General Rules for Exhibitors

1. When judging collections and challenge classes, emphasis will be on the six prime elements of judging. Each entry is judged using the standards appropriate for the type of rose, flower form, and stage of bloom suitable for the entry. There will be 100 points possible for each entry: prime elements comprise 80 percent of this score, and 20 percent will be for overall appearance.
2. Anyone is eligible to submit entries provided the exhibitor grows the roses in his/her own outdoor private garden.
3. Exhibition of roses will be under American Rose Society Exhibition Names (AEN). Registration of roses is required for exhibition. Most varieties have been given a designated ARS Exhibition Name that is listed in one of the following AEN publications: the current edition of Modern Roses, International Registration Supplement, The Handbook for Selecting Roses, The Combined Rose List, The American Rose Magazine, and The American Rose Annual. ARS publications take priority over The Combined Rose List. Roses bearing accepted synonyms—e.g., trade names—should not be considered misnamed, but the judge should note the correct AEN and have the entry moved to its proper place.

4. Judging shall be performed by ARS-accredited judges, who may be assisted by ARS apprentice judges. During judging, no one will be allowed in the exhibition area except individuals with specific, assigned duties.
5. Judges may bestow or withhold awards, including ribbons, as in their judgment the exhibits merit. Judges' decisions are final, shall be in accordance with current Guidelines for Judging Roses (published by the ARS), and based upon the following point scale:

Form	25 points
Substance	15 points
Color	20 points
Stem and foliage	20 points
Balance and proportion	10 points
Size	10 points

6. Horticultural entries can be potentially penalized for the following reasons:
 - a. Stem on stem shall not be a disqualification in any class but may be considered a fault in stem and foliage to be penalized only to the degree of its distraction, if any.
 - b. Side buds in classes where side buds are not permitted, whether showing a bud or leaf, shall not be a disqualification but shall be considered a fault in stem and foliage to be penalized only to the degree of its distraction, if any.
 - c. What goes on beneath the lip of the vase shall be of no consequence in judging, and judges shall not be permitted to remove a specimen from the vase to examine it for any purpose.
 - d. Roses bearing accepted synonyms—e.g., trade names—should not be considered misnamed, and the judge should note the correct AEN and have the entry moved to its proper place.
 - e. Misspelling of names, including abbreviations, shall not be cause for disqualification; as a courtesy, the judge may note the correct spelling on the entry tag.
 - f. Misplaced entries that reflect the correct class on the entry tag shall be moved to the proper place and judged.
 - g. Mislabeled entries that reflect an erroneous class on the entry tag shall, if practicable, be moved to the proper place and judged.

Old Garden Roses and Shrubs may be shown stem on stem. Micro-miniature refers to size of bloom and proportionate foliage – following the criteria stated in the show schedule.

Scale—the visual size relationship of each part of an arrangement to each other part. Particular attention should be given to the size of an arrangement to its allowed space. The arrangement must be confined to the allowed space. The size of an accessory, if used, should complement and should not dominate.

PERFECTION OF THE ROSE(S)—30 POINTS

Prime elements of horticulture judging (form, color, substance, stem, and foliage (when visible)) should be taken into consideration when assessing the condition of the roses. Form of roses may vary depending on variety or stage of development. Rose foliage, when present, should be of good quality and condition.

CREATIVITY AND EXPRESSIVENESS—15 POINTS

Originality in the choice or use of components as related to theme or class title.

DISTINCTION—10 POINTS

Design is superior in all respects due to the unusual differences in execution and construction by the exhibitor. This includes consideration of non-rose plant material and all other materials, containers, backgrounds, underlays, bases, and mechanics used in the arrangement. This is the determination that puts everything together in a final judgment regarding the total complete design, the overall effectiveness, and the unity of the elements and principles of design.

TOTAL—100 POINTS

Official Scorecard for Rose Arrangement Classes in American Rose Society Rose Shows

CONFORMANCE

(5 POINTS PER CATEGORY)—15 POINTS

Conformance refers to the compliance with the requirements of the show schedule.

Conformance to style of design.

Other specific requirements of schedule—all requirements such as type of rose, use of accessories, size of design, staging, etc., must be followed.

DESIGN

(5 POINTS PER PRINCIPLE)—30 POINTS

Balance—both physical and visual stability should be evident. Balance should be featured front to back, side to side, top to bottom, and may be either symmetrical or asymmetrical. Balance should be achieved within the design as well as the outline.

Dominance—the stronger effect of one or more of the elements in a design. Dominance is observed in color, shape, form, etc. Roses must be the dominant flower.

Contrast—the use of unlike qualities or elements to emphasize difference. Contrast is achieved using color, shape, and texture in any or all components.

Rhythm—a visual path traveling through a design. Rhythm may be achieved through repetition of colors, shapes, and sizes which shows movement but unifies the whole.
